With hopes of growing, Consumers Credit Union left the third floor of their new Headquarters, originally built by AVB, unfinished. Those hope were indeed realized and they invited AVB back to completed the third level of their innovative office space.

Continuing the aesthetic and function throughout the headquarters, AVB incorporated several different types of workspaces including large open space for extra-large cubicles featuring colorful sound dampening clouds, work pods to accommodate employee's need for collaboration, privacy, and productive work habits, as well as a cozy employee lounge.

AVB made progress on this build-out during the COVID-19 pandemic, successfully navigating labor shortages and material procurement set-backs. AVB is proud to have completed this inspiring build-out on time and on budget.
